

Sung Nam
July 9, 2013

Bankrupt.com

We came across this beauty today. This site has a periodicals sections that highlights some of the bankruptcies, restructurings and turnarounds. The free daily updates are archived back to 1999 and their coverage spans most geographic regions.

Although the reports are really a compilation of news articles, it provides a comprehensive view of the bankruptcies occurring currently.

We believe a daily dose of these reports will help the average investor attain a specialized working knowledge of these proceedings within a matter of months.